(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 19.—Defeat of the Lodge resolution of ratification of the Peace Treaty was urged by President Wilson in a letter to administration leader Hitchcock, which was laid today before the conference of Democratic senators and immediately after the President's letter became public.

Republican Leader Lodge declared he did not believe the Senate would "obey orders" of the President, "who undertakes to command the Senate to ratify the Treaty without the reservations which Americanizes it and makes it safe for the United States."

"Thus the lines were sharp drawn when the senate went into session at noon to consider the final ratification and the possible bringing to an end today of the long fight over the Treaty."

Just before the senate convened, while Democratic senators were meeting, Republican Leader Lodge held a conference with Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee. The decision of Democratic friends of the Treaty to vote against the ratification resolution was affirmed at the conference of the Democrats.

Senator Hitchcock said enough Democrats to insure his defeat had agreed to vote against the Lodge resolution. No compromise plan was approved by the Senate, but it was suggested that after the prospective defeat of the Lodge resolution a committee of Democrats would be appointed to confer with the Republicans to that end. Immediately after the Senate met, Senator Lodge formally presented the resolution of ratification containing the 15 reservations adopted by a majority of senators.

Washington, Nov. 19.—It was learned that a proposal to modify the preamble reservation would not have to have unqualified acceptance by the other powers had been under serious consideration by the republican leaders. It was understood that the republicans had manifested a willingness to insert a proviso. The reservation would be accepted by the other powers by their merely "not objecting" to them. At the outset Senator Lodge asked unanimous consent for a committee vote on unqualified ratification. Administration Leader Hitchcock said the democrats preferred to wait until the Lodge resolution had been voted on. Senator Lodge then withdrew his request and the debate on the Lodge resolution began.

Washington, Nov. 19.—A letter from President Wilson advising senators to vote against ratification of the treaty with the Foreign Relations Committee reservations was laid before a conference of the administration separate forces today by democratic leader Hitchcock. The committee program the President wrote would provide not for ratification "but rather for the nullification of the Treaty." The conference had been called to decide upon the final administration tactics in the fight for ratification which is expected to come to an end today or tomorrow. After the President's letter was read there were indications that unless a compromise could be effected the administration senators would line up almost simultaneously against ratification. The President's letter addressed to Senator Hitchcock and dated yesterday follows: "My dear Senator:—You were good enough to bring me word that the democratic senators supporting the treaty expected to hold a conference between the final votes of the Lodge resolutions of ratification and that they would be glad to receive a word of counsel from me." "I should hesitate to offer it in any detail but I assume that the Senators only desire my judgement upon the all important question of the final vote on the resolution containing the many reservations of Senator Lodge. On that I cannot hesitate for in my opinion the resolution in that form does not provide for ratification but rather for the nullification of the Treaty. I sincerely hope that the friends and supporters of the Treaty will vote against the Lodge resolution of ratification."

"I understand that the door will then probably be open for a gentle resolution of ratification. I trust that all our friends of the Treaty will refuse to support the Lodge resolution. Cordially and sincerely yours, (Signed) Woodrow Wilson." The President's reference to an opportunity to vote on the "genuine ratification" resolution referred to the plans to get action on an unreserved resolution after they had voted upon the Lodge proposal. That plan apparently has been blocked, however, by the decision of the MHI reservation, republican, to stand with republican leader Lodge against providing such an opportunity. The democratic leaders, however, say they have been promised a chance to vote on an unreserved resolution before the committee resolutions comes to a roll call and should the latter fail, they expect the MHI group to bring committee draft back before the Senate on a motion to reconsider. In the latter eventuality they plan to present amendments which will make the reservation acceptable. It is known to be the purpose of Senator Lodge on the other hand, to force the democratic leaders to make their compromise proposals before the committee resolutions is voted on.

FOOTBALL GAME IS AWARDED TO MAINE

Durham, N. H., Nov. 18.—The University of Maine has been declared a winner of the championship football game with New Hampshire State College which was played at the college oval last Saturday afternoon.

Word has been received from the Central Board that the play in dispute was a touchback and not a touchdown for New Hampshire. The ruling has been accepted as final by the New Hampshire athletic authorities and Maine has been declared the winner. The ball has been forwarded to Maine with a letter of congratulation.

The loss of the Maine game is the first reverse sustained by New Hampshire State this year and came after the heels had won seven straight. Saturday of this week New Hampshire closes its schedule, meeting Brown at Providence.

GERMANY IS FAIRLY DAZED BY DEMANDS

Berlin, Nov. 18.—Germany is fairly dazed by the demands and requirements of the Entente military and naval commissions, for the housing of their supervisory forces, which according to the peace treaty, may have their headquarters at the seat of the German government, and place sub-commissions at any desired point in Germany.

The Entente has given notice that it will send a chief commission to Berlin and ten sub-commissions to other points. It demands from Berlin hotel accommodations comprising 500 rooms housing for 200 non-commissioned officers and men, and garage facilities for 50 automobiles. There are the requirements for the army and naval forces.

For the air forces the Entente wants 200 rooms in a hotel, 100 office rooms, housing for 450 persons, and garage space for 50 automobiles. The figures look large to Germans for guests at all the big hotels even now are happy to be able to creep into a bath room and snatch some sleep.

The Council of States has decided that the money agreed upon for foreign quarters for the Entente missions, 5,000,000 marks, was not enough. It is, however, more money, which is worrying the government.

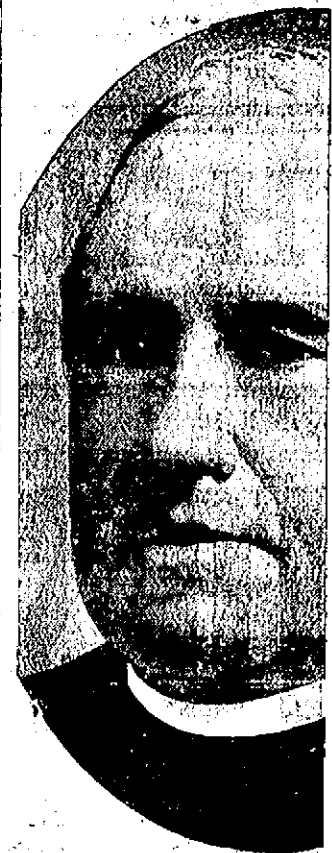

The government has made a beginning by announcing that it will condense one hotel which has 185 rooms and use the building in Wilhelmstrasse now the headquarters of a press division, for office space.

Another hotel has been designated for the air division. That, however, leaves a big gap between what can be supplied and what is demanded. The government may perhaps head the many suggestions made recently for using castles, which would relieve the strain on the already overstrained Berlin hotels.

TIMELY WARNING OF THE NAVY HAS OBSTACLES

Tokio, Nov. 18.—The Kokumin Shinbun publishes an article pointing out the difficulties involved in the reduction of naval armaments. It says that the fact that the final victory won by the Allies was due largely to the great naval power of the British Empire will surely be a bar to the solution of the armament reduction problem to be dealt with by the League of Nations. Above all, Japan being surrounded by the sea, must depend upon commodities imported from other countries.

The Kokumin adds that even if the present conditions of the navy be made the standard of the reduction of armament, Great Britain and America will not feel danger for their national defense. But Japan has not even a sufficiency for defense and cannot admit that the present condition of the navy is the standard of armament. The Kokumin also expressed the opinion that it would be unfair to make the length of coast line the standard of the reduction of armament.

MAKES OFFER TO BOX ANY CLERGYMAN

London, Nov. 18.—Bishop McJannet, of Claremont, South Africa, has sent to the All Sports Weekly, an offer to box any bishop five rounds for a fund for disabled soldiers and adds that, to aid in making the match he will extend the offer to any editor of any paper of his own age. The Bishop is 65 years old.

He is the father of Captain Victor McJannet, who is now training to box Joe Beckett, for the Lonsdale heavyweight championship belt.

The Bishop's offer was prompted apparently by his indignation at some thing the newspapers had printed concerning his son.

"Why," he asks, "is it astonishing that a man who chooses to fight in the ring for money should be the son of a bishop, or a man of considerable educational attainments? I have had eight sons, all of whom served in the war, and I should be ashamed of any who could not use his hands. Neither would I wish to see them willing to undergo the long period of work and training necessary for a contest without payment. I wish my sons to be what they are—gentlemen; but I do not wish to see them what they are not—fools."

"Neither," adds the Bishop, "is there anything contrary to Christianity in boxing. This is solely the nonsense of clergy who have forgotten that they are men, living in a world of men and not of Victorian old ladies."

FINAL VOTE ON RATIFICATION OF TREATY TODAY

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 18—A reservation of Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin relative to the voting equality in the League of Nations was substituted by the Senate for one on the same subject by Senator McCumber. The vote was first taken to forecast the adoption of the reservation and the vote on the question was 65 to 38. All of the New England Senators excepting Senator Gerry, democrat, voted for the adoption of the reservation.

The text of the reservation is: "The United States assumes no obligation to be bound by any election, decision, report, or finding of the Council or assembly in which any member of the League and self-governing dominion colony or part of any such government, in the agreement cast more than one vote and assumes no obligation to be bound by any decision, report, or finding of the Council or assembly arising out of any dispute between the United States and any member of the League if such member or any self-governing dominion, colony or empire united with it politically by votes."

At 10:15 the vice-president declared the treaty closed to further amendments or reservation and the senate adjourned until noon tomorrow, when the resolution of ratification will be called for vote.

Washington, Nov. 18—The Senate tonight before adjourning adopted a resolution authorizing the House to adjourn at any time between now and Dec. 1. The House will adjourn tomorrow, but before doing so will pass a resolution authorizing the senate to quit whenever they see fit.

COURT OF APPEAL MAY DECIDE

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Nov. 18—The Federal Court of Appeals today took under advisement the motion of United States District Attorney Harvey A. Baker of Providence, for a writ of Superseas to set aside the injunction granted by Federal Judge Brown restraining him from enforcing the war-time prohibition under the Alstead act. A decision is expected today.

Robert G. Dodge counsel for the Brewers of Massachusetts appeared in opposition to the motion. He recently filed a bill in equity seeking to restrain District Attorney Thomas J. Boynton from enforcing the act. A hearing on his petition was postponed until this case was decided.

Judge Anderson who with Judges Blagden and Johnson heard the case, in his questions implied his doubts of the wisdom of the lower courts rendering a decision, when the United States Supreme Court were to hold a hearing on Thursday on a like petition from New York which would cover all cases.

The Foreign Language Press.

Attorney General Palmer says the growth of radicalism throughout the country is to be attributed to the inadequacy of federal laws against preaching violent overthrow of the government. There are, he says, 60,000 persons under surveillance as radicals, with whom it is impossible to cope because of the weakness of present statutes. He further says that the activities of the foreign language press present a problem the Department of Justice has been unable to meet successfully. He makes the startling statement that there are in the country 222 foreign language newspapers which have preached sedition and openly advocated changes in our governmental system by violence. In addition to these there are many radical newspapers published in foreign countries and sent here for distribution, and articles in them advancing violence are followed up with pamphlets and other propaganda.

This is a bad state of things, and one for which a remedy must be found. The country is big enough and strong enough to stop the publication of incendiary literature through newspapers, or in any other form, and it is its business and duty to do this without waste of time.

For a long time there has been complaint of the work being done by some of the foreign language papers, and in some quarters it has been urged that the publication of newspapers in any but the English language should be prohibited. But that would be a very radical step and one that ought not to be necessary.

There are hundreds of thousands of so-called foreigners in the country who are good American citizens, and they have a right to publications printed in their own languages if they want them. It is not the language in which a paper is printed that makes it dangerous; it is the character of its contents.

The question of dealing with the foreign language press came up at the recent national convention of the American Legion, and it seems to this paper that the remedy suggested there would be practical and justifiable. The convention went on record as in favor of compelling all foreign language publications printed or distributed in the United States to publish translations of all articles of a political nature, the accuracy of the translations to be sworn to, and the names of the writers of the articles given. Copies of these publications would be left with postmasters in the places where they are published and would be open to public inspection. Suitable penalties would be provided for violation of the requirement.

It would seem that something of this kind should be sufficient. Sweeping out the foreign language press altogether would be an extremely radical course. It would deprive great numbers of loyal and orderly citizens of that to which they have a perfect right, and would do vastly more harm than good by creating the impression that, in spite of all its protestations, this is not a country in which there is free speech and a free press.

The dangerous foreign language press should be promptly brought to terms, but in doing this it should not be necessary to trample upon the rights of any class of the population, no matter what part of the world it may have come from.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Conference of Social Work to be held in this city this week should be an event of much interest to the people of the city and surrounding towns. Important topics will be discussed by able speakers and there will be something worth while in every feature of the program.

There is no room for a division of sentiment with reference to securing more work for the navy yard in the line of submarine building, and in this effort the men of the yard and the people of the city should stand as one man. And it is entirely safe to say that they will.

The Piscataqua bridge building project is in the hands of a competent commission and the work will be done in a manner creditable to the two states which the structure will connect, and to the federal government, which properly takes a hand in the enterprise.

The public has long been familiar with watered stocks, and now it is claimed that some butter manufacturers have found a way to increase the weight of their product by the addition of water. There appears to be no limit to Yankee ingenuity.

Already the Salvation Army and many charitable organizations are preparing to feed the worthy poor on Thanksgiving Day. There is no better way to impart the right flavor to the feast at home.

And New Hampshire State College won the New England intercollegiate cross-country run. The institution at Durham isn't as noisy as some, but it has a way of "getting there" on occasion.

PEOPLE WILL BE PROVIDED WITH COAL

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 19.—Speaking with the authority of President Wilson's Cabinet, Fuel Administrator Garfield told representatives of the bituminous coal operators and miners here today that "the people of the United States need, must have, and will have coal," and as long as the government stands they will not be prevented from getting it by "anything the operators or miners may do." Dr. Garfield explained that his purpose was to furnish the conference with the data which he would use in determining wage advance if any was agreed to by the operators and miners could be borne probably by the public.

"The people of the United States," Dr. Garfield said, "are willing to pay sufficient to maintain American standards, but the question is what are American standards. The people want the operators to have a just return, but what is a just return?" Dr. Garfield said he was prepared to see what changes could reasonably be made piece of coal but all the necessary data was not at hand. One of the items not yet determined he said was that in the federal income taxes for 1918 which are claimed to be included in the course of granting the desired contention.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Resignations Accepted.

The resignation of Captain James B. Bailey at the Charleston navy yard has been accepted by the Navy Department, and also that of his assistant, Commander A. W. Frank. Captain Bailey is to engage with the Baltimore Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company and Commander Frank has entered business at Philadelphia.

Must Go to Observatory.

By order of the Navy Department, hereafter, all compasses that become useless must be sent to the Naval Observatory for repairs instead of being forwarded to the makers.

Against Soliciting Funds.

Capt. Snow, of the Construction Corps, head of the hull division at the Charleston navy yard, is opposed to the collecting of money for employees or their families who may become ill. He states that the Mutual Aid Association was established for such purpose and has his endorsement.

Fall From Staging.

William E. Smith, a painter residing on Browster street, sustained a compound fracture of the left forearm this afternoon by a fall from a staging on which he was engaged in the painting of a new building. He received first aid at the yard dispensary and later removed to the hospital.

Sole Next Month.

The next condemned material sale may take place about the middle of December.

Reached New York.

Part of the mine sweeping fleet on the way to the local yard have reached New York from the North Sea.

About Nov. 25.

The first trial trip of the submarine S-1 will be held on or about Nov. 25.

Launching in December.

It is expected that the next submarine S-6 will be launched the first part of December.

Placed in Commission.

The submarine S-1 was placed in commission at 9 o'clock this morning and was turned over to Lieut. Commander Rowbottom by Lieut. Evans, representing the commandant of the yard. She has a crew of about 60 men.

Fourteen From Eagle Boats.

Fourteen men from the various Eagle boats were sent to the recruiting ship Southey today and later will go to the several ships of the fleet.

Enlist as Fireman.

Fred P. La Coss of Orleans, Vt., enlisted as a fireman at the local yard today and was sent to the destroyer Strubling.

Ought to Make a Good Head.

Chief Boatswain Frank Curragher, U. S. N., retired, who is a candidate for street commissioner of Dover, has a record of 30 years' service in the navy, a large part of the time handling men engaged in construction work while doing shore duty. Since retiring from the navy he has been acting foreman rigger at the Atlantic shipyard.

Not a Bright Outlook.

If the predictions of officers of the local yard mean anything, the number of employees at present working there will be decreased from time to time, by the end of the government fiscal year, July next, officials close to the department state the working force will be down to 2,000 or less. This cut will apply to every yard and it is feared that the delegation sent to Washington in the interest of home yards cannot accomplish much with the naval committee owing to the fact

THUMB-NAIL SKETCHES OF PERSONS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

LEROY C. SCHMALZRIED
Secretary of Local Y. M. C. A.

Secretary Le Roy C. Schmalzried of the local Y. M. C. A. is doing excellent work with that organization and since coming here last February to take up his duties has made many friends, not only among the Y. M. C. A. members but in the community. He is a native of Indiana and for three years had charge of the Y. M. C. A. at Northampton. For some time he served at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., during the war and played on the Y. M. C. A. football team there. He is much interested in that sport and coached the local high school football team this season. Secretary Schmalzried is a member of the official board of the Methodist church and teacher of the Forward class, an organization of young men in the Sunday school.

Secretary Schmalzried shows marked interest in the local Y. M. C. A. and has the interest of the members at heart and the work is sure to make progress under his charge. The first Tuesday for Detroit, Mich., accompanied by E. Curtis Matthews and they will represent the local Y. M. C. A. at the great International Convention which opens at Detroit today and continues until Monday. Delegates from all parts of the world will attend and it is expected 5,000 people will be present at the gathering. Sixteen delegates from China, four from Japan, four from Turkey and six from India arrived a few days ago and every in-coming train for a week has been bringing Y. M. C. A. men who have been working in foreign lands during the war.

that such committees are out to cut down the various war taxes imposed on the people. A recent conference of department heads at Washington indicates a slash for every yard. However, the various labor organizations, government workmen and elvite bodies are going to fight and are already on the ground for battle. Most every navy yard has a sufficient amount of work that does not justify any sweeping reduction of employees, but naval committees refuse to let loose on the necessary funds to retain the workmen.

WAR HERO CADILLAC COMING

When a motor car has travelled over the shell-burnt battle fronts of France for more than 100,000 miles; has been wounded by shrapnel 37 times; has seen two solid years of faithful service with the Fifth Marines, and is decorated with the Croix de Guerre, with Palm and Star, it is bound to attract attention. That is the reason that the Type 65 Cadillac car, designated as "U. S. 1126," which is now touring Boston and its suburbs in aid of marine recruiting, is sure to collect crowds wherever it stops.

All of the members of the marine corps in connection with the recruiting work in Boston and other sections of the country where this Cadillac car has been used, are loud in their praise of its constant help, and they say that although it is only a piece of machinery, it has endeared itself to the marines, and has become entitled to membership in the corps that is next to fight, because of its performance. It has demonstrated the truth of the marines' motto—"Semper Paratus."

BELIEVE THAT AMERICA WILL TAKE ITS PLACE

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 19.—Great Britain and France are considering whether they are not compelled to proceed with the carrying out of the German Peace Treaty and the operation of the League of Nations independent of the decision of the American government on its course. It is pointed out that matters are continually arising under the Treaty which need immediate attention and it is considered that because of this fact it is no longer possible to delay making the pact operative. The opinion prevails here that Great Britain will not accept any reservations made by the United States Senate which would necessitate the negotiating of a new treaty. The belief still exists here that the American government will take its place with the Allies.

INTERNAL PROBLEMS CONFRONT BRAZIL

Rio De Janeiro, Nov. 18.—One of the most serious internal problems with which the Brazilian government has to deal is that of relieving the population (or three states in northeastern Brazil from the effects of periodic droughts. These states—Ceara, Parahyba and Rio Grande do Norte—have a combined area of 91,250 square miles and a population of approximately 2,000,000. It is officially estimated that since 1877 more than 1,000,000 persons and an untold number of livestock have died from hunger and disease as a result of these droughts.

In a message to the Brazilian congress President Pessoa has called attention to the situation. He asked authorization for the government to arrange loans, either domestic or foreign, amounting to about $10,000,000 a year for a period of not more than five years, for the purpose of constructing reservoirs and irrigation canals in affected regions, and for supplementary projects.

A NEW KIND OF LABEL

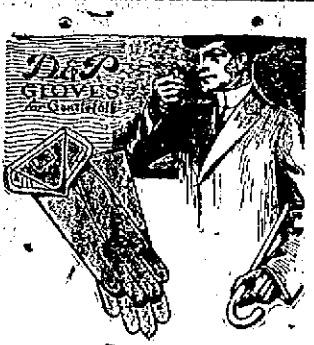

Vienna, Nov. 18.—A Vienna paper prints a story from Switzerland that a Swiss brewery has adopted the custom of pasting on its bottles, instead of labels, Austrian one-crown notes, which are valued in Switzerland at something less than seven and one-half centimes. The former label of the brewery cost something like ten centimes.

LAFAYETTE ROAD BEING USED FOR TRAVEL

The Lafayette state road is practically completed to the Hye Line and a good section of it open to travel. The government specifications demand that the concrete bridge be allowed to set for two weeks before open to travel, but this is almost up.

There is still a great deal of work to be done on side fills and on fencing in some sections of the road. At the present time, the drop from the road level into the side ditches would wreck any car and shoulders of gravel are being put on wherever practical and in other places a railing strong enough to stand any ordinary crash with a car are being built. If this was not done, a hospital could be established along some section of the road and be filled with patients most of the time.

LEGION TO HAVE BASKETBALL TEAM

The weekly meeting of the Frank E. Uooma Post No. 6 American Legion was held on Tuesday evening, with a very large attendance and there was considerable business for the members. Mr. N. T. Wright the delegate to the National Convention of the Legion made his report and gave an interesting account in brief form of the work of the Legion and what was outlined as the future policy of the Legion.

Two members were voted in, as the charter closed on Nov. 11.

The committee on the Armistice ball reported that it had been a financial success as well as a social success, but the full returns could not be made at that time. The final report was also made on the Block Dance.

A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with the committees from the other veteran organizations who will have the use of the court house, the Messrs N. T. Wright, N. A. Hogue and Edward Campbell were named.

The death of Edward Austin the first member of the Post to die, was reported and resolutions were passed and sent to his parents.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Irvin Runk, a sister of Lieut. Frank E. Uooma, for the Post flag which she presented.

The question of the Post entering into athletics was brought up and Daniel O'Brien was appointed a committee of one to locate the basketball talent in the Legion and bring them together. There is a good number of basketball players who are members of the Post and a coach team will be organized.

Investigation of the spirit of the police department and citizens in general toward the soldiers now that the war is over. They were very much impressed that the soldiers here get the same treatment that any citizen gets and that the police department has not had a case of a soldier, for even a simple drunk, for months. Portsmouth always did treat the enlistment as part of the community and the war did not change this. The two officers were greatly impressed with the Army and Navy Home on Daniel street, and they said that it was as good a building as they have found anywhere.

MANUFACTURED BY AN AMERICAN CONCERN

London, Nov. 18.—Grecian cigarettes are to be manufactured near London by an American concern. The company has a stock of nearly 4,000,000 worth of Macedonian tobacco such as is used in the manufacture of "Turkish" cigarettes. Because the district in which this tobacco is grown is no longer governed by the Turks, the term "Grecian" is to be substituted for "Turkish" by this organization.

RETAIL TRADE BOARD IS BEING ORGANIZED

The men's clothing and furnishing division of the retail trade met Monday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce and organized, appointing Lawrence G. Poyser as its representative on the Retail Trade Board. Other branches of the retail trade are being organized as rapidly as possible and each branch will have a representative on this Board. When each trade has organized and chosen its delegate, all of these delegates will meet and form the Retail Board, selecting their own chairman and adopting a set of by-laws under which they will work. This Board will hold regular weekly or bi-weekly meetings as may be deemed advisable, at which time all questions affecting the retail trade of the city, which may have been presented to the Board, will be discussed thoroughly and definite action taken upon them. Through such a Board unanimity of action will be secured on all matters pertaining to retail trade and much of the confusion which has existed in the past in certain directions will be eliminated. The Retail Trade Board is in effect in practically all the live cities and as its work is controlled entirely by the merchants themselves, independent of any other organization, it has been found very satisfactory in operation. A strong Retail Trade Board in Portsmouth cannot fail to be of material advantage to the trade.

The dinner menu was especially inviting and included, roast venison, mashed potatoes, squash, celery, rolls, cranberry sauce, apple pie, cranberry sauce, duck steamed, pudding and coffee. The dinner was in general charge of Mrs. Harry Clark, assisted by an able committee. Mrs. Jacob Marshall had charge of the dining room.

ENDORSE WORK OF DELEGATES IN WASHINGTON

City Committee Behind Organized Labor in Work for the Navy Yard.

The democrats appear to be backing up labor representatives who are in Washington with an effort to secure work for Portsmouth. At the city committee meeting on Monday night, the Portsmouth navy yard and its future, as well as the municipal election came up for much discussion in which those present participated.

It was unanimously voted that the city committee stand behind any movement on the part of organized labor that would benefit the navy yard and the people of Portsmouth and accordingly the following letter was sent to the labor delegates now working in Washington.

PET DOG KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Grover are mourning the loss of their pet dog, who was killed early last evening, having been run over by an automobile. The dog was named Woodrow Wilson and was a favorite with all the neighborhood. He was five years old and Mr. Grover has had it from a puppy. Woodrow was an unusually sagacious animal and when it would hear the foot of its master's car would run out to the street to meet him. Last night the dog ran out as usual when he heard Mr. Grover's machine, only to be killed by a passing automobilist driving up Islington street.

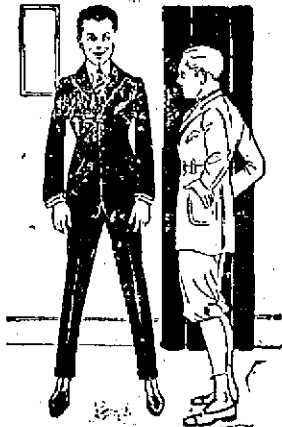

CHOIR SURPRISES ONE OF THE MEMBERS

Reception and Presentation to Leo Pelchat at Kittery.

Leo Pelchat, a bass singer in the choir of St. Raphael's Church, Kittery was the victim of a pleasant surprise on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Lillian Williams, Kittery Point, where the choir had assembled for the purpose of a reception to Mr. Pelchat who shortly leaves for Detroit. L. J. Carroll on behalf of the choir, presented Mr. Pelchat with a fine Russian leather bill fold adding the well wishes of the church singers with whom he has been associated with for a year or more. The recipient responded in a most fitting way heartily thanking those present for the gift.

The remainder of the evening was given to a fine musical program by the choir. Refreshments, cards, etc., added much to the evening's enjoyment.

Looks like the ace for some departments at the navy yard.

"The First Long Trouser Suit"

Here are "first long trouser suits" for the youngster that are "young" in appearance and effect; just the right kind to avoid a "too old looking" effect for his age. The patterns and color combinations are "young" too. A most pleasing showing of "Knickerbocker suits" for the younger youngster too in belted and waist-seam models.

Thirty-Seven Pieces of GERMAN SHRAPNEL struck "Caddie," the pride of the Fifth Regiment Marines, during the intense fighting near the town of Bouresches in the Chateau Thierry sector June, 1918, but its badly lacerated body did not deter it from mixing in all the fighting from then to Armistice Day, nor from going up into Germany with the Army of Occupation.

Despite the ninety thousand miles "Caddie" travelled while overseas and the valiant service rendered to the Marines, its day of rest and retirement has not come. It is now on duty in Portsmouth, attracting attention to the need for men in the U. S. Marine Corps, whose motto, "Semper Fidelis," it has exemplified to the letter.

All of which means that the Type 55 Cadillac Phaeton, bearing the registry "U. S. 1126" and proudly displaying three service chevrons, a wound stripe and the honored scars of battle, has been shipped back to the United States after being in continuous service in the thickest of the fighting, and is now being used for exhibition purposes by Marine Corps recruiters in Portsmouth.

"U. S. 1126" was the first automobile to be landed with the American forces, going over with the Fifth Regiment of Marines in the DeKalb, and arriving June 28, 1917. It was returned to this country recently on the same transport that carried Brigadier-General Logan Feland, commander of the Fifth Marine Regiment, who is extremely proud of the car and its performance.

General Feland explained that the "U. S. 1126," while in France, responded to every roll call, never was A. W. O. L.* and never went to sick bay—except for one day, when a German shell landed a few yards away and thirty-seven shell fragments struck the car from stem to stern. The shell damaged only the body, and the next day the Cadillac was again in service, transporting the regimental commander to all parts of the battle line. No attempt was made to repair the damage, and the car today represents an inspiring reminder of the dangers through which the Fifth Marines' officers and men passed.

Wherever the Fifth Marines went, there the "U. S. 1126" went, too. The regiment changed commanding officers three times, but the car remained with the regiment, being used successively by Brigadier-Generals Charles A. Doyen (now deceased), W. C. Neville and Logan Feland, who were commanders of the regiment in turn.

From the Chateau Thierry sector it was driven to the Soissons area, then to the St. Mihiel drive, then to the Champagne front, winding up the fighting in the roadless Argonne-Meuse district, and at last, carrying officers into the Rhineland for the Army of Occupation.

The Cadillac was driven by Sgt. George Damewood, whose mother, Mrs. Emma Damewood, lives at Little York, Ill. Sgt. Damewood estimates the distance covered by the car as 90,000 miles, and asserts that no matter how bad the roads or how roadless was the territory to be covered, "U. S. 1126" always went through. He says that he experienced less engine trouble on these war-time journeys than he had in the old days when he was a chauffeur in this country.

Official records indicate that the chauffeur was as trustworthy as was the Cadillac. General orders No. 53 of the Second Division, under date of September 12, 1918, contain the citation of Sergeant Damewood for distinguished service in carrying messages and assisting wounded officers and men during the capture of Vierzy, in July.

Sgt. Damewood and other men of the Fifth Regiment displayed an unusual affection for the Cadillac veteran of many battles. After they had settled down in Germany, the men requested and obtained permission to decorate the car. Three gold service chevrons were painted on the cowl to the left of the driver and one gold wound stripe on the cowl to the right.

Portsmouth recruiters now using the car have asked permission to inscribe on its sides the motto of the Corps: "Ever Faithful."

* Absent without leave. † Repair Shop.

"CADDIE" will be on exhibition in the showroom of the HISLOP GARAGE CO., Thursday, Nov. 20, from 9 to 11 in the morning and from 3 to 5 in the afternoon. During the day "CADDIE" will continue to attract recruits to the standard of Marine Corps about the streets of Portsmouth.
